What form should a nonprofit organization use to claim a refund of sales and use tax?

- Form E-585, Nonprofit and Governmental Entity Claim for Refund State, County, and Transit Sales and Use Taxes, should be used by nonprofit organizations to claim a refund of sales and use tax.
- The Department asks that old forms or photocopied forms not be used, as this will delay the processing of the claim.

What Account ID number should be used?

- The organization should use the nine-digit account ID number which begins with “72” that was assigned to it when the organization was notified that it qualified to receive refunds of sales and use taxes it pays on purchases and leases of tangible personal property and services for use in carrying on its nonprofit work.
- If the organization has not been notified by the Department that it qualifies to receive refunds of sales and use tax, and it does not have a refund Account ID Number, eligibility can be determined by furnishing the Department with the following information:
 - 1) The Federal Employer Identification Number (EIN) issued by the Internal Revenue Service or a statement advising the organization has not been assigned an EIN.

What is the Federal Employer ID Number?

A Federal Employer Identification Number is also known as a federal tax identification number and is used to identify a business entity. This number is issued by the Internal Revenue Service. The NTEE Code is a classification system for non-profit organizations recognized as tax exempt under the Internal Revenue Code, and in most cases, can be obtained by visiting the websites listed below.

The Department will review the above information to determine whether the organization qualifies for refunds of sales and use tax and respond accordingly. Please send all information to the following address:
